

Israeli Find Work Quick

Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—In Israel, when one wants work, he asks for it and usually quickly gets it. Four hundred unemployed from the Haifa and Lydda airport area, in trucks and buses, drove through Tel Aviv's main streets shouting: "Work and bread!" Then they went to HaKirya (Government Place) and told their troubles to Zvi Berenson, director-general of the ministry of labor. Three hundred demonstrators were told they could go to work immediately on public works projects and repairing highways damaged by recent heavy rains.

'Counterfeit' Is Tried

Bridgeport, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—Oneida Lake fishermen are trying "counterfeit" goldfish as bait. State law prohibits use of real goldfish. Victor Dean developed a pickling and color mixture that makes buckeye minnows look like goldfish. He's giving samples to other anglers—but not the formula. There's no report yet whether the fish are fooled.

Recipient Visits Donors

Ithaca, N. Y., (AP)—Back in 1947 Mr. and Mrs. Nelson F. Hopper sent a CARE package and a Christmas box to Germany. The gifts were delivered to Otto Sperling, his wife and two daughters in Berlin. Recently, the Hoppers received a phone call from Sperry. He was in Ithaca as one of 19 German labor experts spending two weeks at Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations. They were taken to the United States by the State Department. The first recorded quarantine was set up in Venice during a 14th Century plague epidemic.

Academy Awards
Are to Be Given
At Hollywood

Hollywood, March 23 (AP)—Oscar, still a little pale from last year's near demise, will make his 22nd appearance on schedule tonight.

Searchlights, stars, red carpets and all the conventional trappings of the annual Motion Picture Academy awards have been assembled, yet the level of enthusiasm along "canary row" is definitely sub-standard.

For a time, while major studios withheld monetary support, it appeared that the yearly bestowal of honors might pass into history. But the producers finally came through with a financial shot in the arm for Oscar.

Up for best picture of 1949 are "All the King's Men" (Columbia), "The Heiress" (Paramount), "A Letter to Three Wives" (20th-Fox) and "Twelve O'Clock High" (20th-Fox). Best actress nominees are: Jeanne Crain ("Pinky"), Olivia DeHavilland ("The Heiress"), Susan Hayward ("My Foolish Heart"), Deborah Kerr ("Edward, My Son") and Loretta Young ("Come to the Stable").

Nominated for best actor are: Broderick Crawford ("All the King's Men"), Kirk Douglas ("Champion"), Gregory Peck ("Twelve O'Clock High"), Richard Todd ("The Hasty Heart") and John Wayne ("The Sands of Iwo Jima").

Ethel Barrymore Nominated
Best supporting actress nominees are Ethel Barrymore ("Pinky"), Celeste Holm ("Come to the Stable"), Mercedes McCambridge ("All the King's Men"), Ethel Waters ("Pinky") and Elsa Lanchester ("Come to the Stable").

Nominees for best supporting actor are John Ireland ("All the King's Men"), Dean Jagger ("Twelve O'Clock High"), Arthur Kennedy ("Champion"), Ralph Richardson ("The Heiress") and James Whitmore ("Battle Ground").

Academy officials are somewhat disturbed by the likelihood that 20 per cent of the nominees will be absent, on location or abroad, when the ceremonies start at 11 p. m., E.S.T., in the 2800-seat R.K.O. Pantages Theatre.

However, all the principals in best actor and actress, best supporting actor and actress categories are expected to be present, with the possible exception of Richardson, who has been in England.

Also expected are truffle jams, ripped hems, floodlighted gawkers, and the usual contingent of bejeweled beauties, film tycoons, and cops to keep the hiencher and street crowds in order outside the theatre.

Red Interest Grows

Moscow (AP)—Russians have always been interested in Asian and South-East Asian affairs. But the chief attention of most Russians in the field of international affairs was directed at Europe. Now this has changed. Soviet newspapers have not abandoned their coverage of what goes on in the United States and Western Europe. But the prominent places in foreign affairs pages are now devoted to news dispatches from China, Vietnam, Indonesia, Japan, India and other Eastern nations.

The whipping post still is maintained in Delaware, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Arthur Hopkins
Dies in New York

New York, March 23 (AP)—Arthur Hopkins, who produced or directed 80 plays during a long theatrical career on Broadway, died yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 74.

Hopkins worked as a reporter after leaving high school; then did theatre press agent work for a while, turned to theatre production and became one of Broadway's leading producers. His career spanned 34 years and included some shows that made theatre history.

His first production was a hit—"Poor Little Rich Girl" in 1913. And so was his last—"The Magnificent Yankee," a play based on the life of the late Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, in 1946. There were many successes, and some flops, in between.

The last personal theatre work done by Hopkins was directing

Bert Lahr's revival of Hopkins' "Burlesque" in 1938. Some of the late John Barrymore's greatest successes and the first plays of Eugene O'Neill were among the plays in which Hopkins had a leading hand. Hopkins was born in Cleveland in 1878, the son of a Welsh couple. He married the former Iva O'Brien in 1915, and she died in 1938. He is survived by three brothers, William, Dan and John Hopkins.

LEGISLATORS CAN'T KEEP SECRETS

Congressmen are always complaining that they don't get the truth, or at least all of it, from such important arms of the government as the State and Defense departments. But they themselves are partly to blame, because few of them know how to keep a secret. They're undoubtedly right that they don't get the full story.

Of course some of the information they don't learn is too vital to security to be passed around, even within the departments. We're not thinking about rigidly classified material.

But lots of other data Congress could wisely lean upon for intelligent lawmaking it never gets. What it does find out about the state of our defense or political and diplomatic conditions abroad is too often not distinguished either for accuracy or clarity.

The departments, to be sure, can't be whitewashed of responsibility for their part in this. Many government officials have a generous contempt for the people's representatives and are predisposed to tell them as little as possible, just on general principals.

The thing is further complicated by the department's dependence on Congress for money. Department officials come to Capitol Hill as bargainers, trying to put the best conceivable case for the granting of the funds they seek. Understandably, some inconvenient truths may not get told.

But there's another side to it. Congressmen as a rule are among the poorest guardians of a confidence to be found in Washington. Tell them something confidential and, like as not, it'll find its way into print in record time.

The average congressman fairly bursts with self-importance when he's lugging a big secret around in his brief case. He can hardly wait to fish out a shiny photostat fresh from government files and show it to a colleague, a visiting constituent or a reporter.

The information usually is passed on with appropriate warnings not to disclose it. Yet few who relay such data to reporters can have any illusions about where the material will ultimately wind up.

The plain fact is the congressmen want it known that they have important information. It increases their stature, they believe.

Actually, their stature would be a lot greater if they showed more responsibility in preserving confidences. They can't expect to be entrusted with crucial data so long as they spill the contents of their brief cases to every good listener who hits their offices. There'll be more point to their demand for important facts when they learn to curb their schoolboyish eagerness to command attention.

Wendell Willkie, who died of a heart attack in 1944, is to be commemorated by a $1,000,000 fund for heart disease research. This is a cause which would gratify the friends and admirers of any man. For a man of such a brief career on the national stage, Willkie made his mark. He is still a vivid personality to many, and his ideal of world unity is an effective watchword today.

KEEPING WOMEN HAPPY

How are women to be kept happy? This is an age-old problem for which hitherto no entirely satisfactory answer has been found. A New York City forum thinks it has found the answer. Its recipe consists in giving women volunteer and part-time jobs which are congenial. This would employ their surplus energies, and give them something new to think about.

This prescription is of course unsatisfactory for those women whose present duties take up all the time and energy at their disposal. Is there no easy formula for them? Or are they happier alone than those with idle time?

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY.

CENSORSHIP

My Dear Senator Edwin C. Johnson:
 I see by the congressional record that you were kind enough to include one of my columns in your masterly arraignment of Ingrid Bergman. That was kind of you, for while my writings appear daily in a large number of newspapers, they are nowhere recorded for posterity.

While I admire your distaste, I must say that I cannot go along with your proposal to license the motion picture industry or the personalities in it. Licensing and censorship never did anything for morals or decency. Look at radio! It has been licensed from the very start.

While I can stay out of a motion picture house altogether, I might be tempted to turn on Toscanini or Father Fulton Sheen or "The Greatest Story Ever Told" on the radio and then, should I forget to turn the thing off in time, I could fill my home with the vilest gibberish in words and sound. And all of it would be licensed.

As a matter of fact, I have made a very thorough study of the F.C.C. over the years. I would not hire Mr. James L. Fly, Mr. Clifford Durr or Mr. Wayne Coy to license anything. I do not think well of their judgment or their partisanship. Nor would they of mine. That, of course, is a personal opinion about individual whose ideas and tastes differ from mine. Yet, they do the licensing for me.

The point is that when you begin to put shackles on freedom, you must first look to who does the shackling. For instance, for many years, most of the political commentators on the air were either neutral or left wing. A conservative, like myself, could not get time on the radio, because business men and advertising agencies and even network managers were afraid of the F.C.C.

I know about that because I investigated very thoroughly and was told, "Nothing doing! We don't want trouble with the F.C.C."

In a word, they were scared of the licensing agency. They put millions into a business and the F.C.C. might take it away from them on one pretext or another and give the business to a deserving Democrat or a New Deal harpy.

I have been on the air for a year now and have been doing nicely, but whenever anyone seeks a sponsor, some advertising agency man advises against sponsoring me, lest the F.C.C. won't like it.

I do not really care, because I earn my living in a free press where I am uncensored. This column appears in Republican, Democratic and neutral newspapers. They all carry advertising and that gives them revenue to be free. As long as the press is not licensed, a publisher is a free man and he can print what he thinks he should. If the press were licensed, maybe only government press agents would have space in it.

So, I do not really care if my space on the radio is generally unsponsored. When I see how frightened these advertising agencies are of the law department of the F.C.C., I feel happier not to have anything do with either of them. I don't like the frightened or those who live in fear.

Yet, you, in the good cause of upholding the morals of our race, make the incorrect proposal of extending government licensing. There has been censorship over motion pictures for years, but it has not done much to keep poor pictures out of circulation.

My experience has been that morals are not a matter of licensing by the state. Men are not made good by law. There have been laws against murder for centuries, and yet, J. Edgar Hoover reports a frightful crime wave as of this year.

Morals depend upon upbringing, education, religion. There must be a sense of right, deeply lodged in the consciousness of each individual. And that sense can be nurtured better in the home and church and school than by a licensing board which is, itself, an instrument of partisan politics and intrigue. We need God and good laws, not the F.C.C.

If we raise the morality of our people through education, good taste will suffer no outrage. A licensing board can only establish censorship, and its own private indecencies.

Respectfully yours,
 GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

X-RAY TREATMENT OF BURSTIS

Many cases of pain at top of shoulder are caused by a fall or blow on the head. The pain occurs in back of head and neck, top of shoulder, and sometimes down the arm and even into the fingers. Relief from this pain is obtained in some cases by injections of alcohol and by X-ray treatments. Temporary relief is often obtained by wearing a high plaster of paris collar which holds the head well above the shoulder line. Some patients get rest at night by holding arm out at side in line with the shoulder.

There is another cause of painful shoulder of which I write from time to time. This is called burstis, as it is an inflammation of the lining of the bag (bursa) containing water, which protects the shoulder joint just as the bag of water at the knee protects the knee joint. When this knee bag lining becomes inflamed and swollen, it is called housemaid's knee.

The inflammation of bursa at top of shoulder is directly under the large muscle which rounds off the shoulder and as this muscle is called the deltoid, the inflammation and swelling is called subdeltoid burstis. Thus any movement that causes the upper arm to be moved puts pressure on this muscle and causes pain.

In cases where the inflammation of the bursa continues for some time, the bag or bursa may become filled with a lime-like substance. This hard material must be scraped out by the surgeon. While in liquid state it can sometimes be drained. Among the symptoms of subdeltoid burstis are heat and redness at top of shoulder, but the main symptom is pain when arm is moved forward, outward or inward. Sometimes the serious or watery fluid turns into pus.

More recently surgery has been replaced by X-ray treatments and sometimes by alcohol injections.

In "Delaware State Medical Journal," Wilmington, Dr. W. W. Lattomus and L. M. Hunter review 235 cases of subdeltoid burstis which were treated by X-rays during the last five years. Best results were obtained in acute or recent cases, either first attacks or where there was increase in pain in an already existing attack.

The sooner the X-ray treatment was given the quicker were beneficial results obtained. Further, these physicians found that low voltage treatment was as effective as high voltage.

is not stated, nor is her destination. One conjecture, which is only a conjecture, is that the Poles' Russian masters would like her for purposes of their own.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Bible-quoting Bob Kerr of Oklahoma is really rolling up the bulwarks to protect his oil and gas interests.

Senator Kerr's oil and gas lands are valued at approximately $100,000,000 and his gross income is around $1,600,000. The net income from his Kerr-McGee Company last year was $1,218,627, on which the company paid only $8,949 in taxes. His preferred stock earned $22,63 a share and his common stock $1.40—all of which isn't bad for a senator.

However, the gentleman from Oklahoma is not content with these lush profits and low taxes. He has already put his brother, Aubrey Kerr, on the federal payroll with the R.F.C. He has been lobbying ceaselessly to pass the Kerr bill which would increase the price of natural gas to almost every northern city—and also increase his own dividends.

But on top of all this, the senator now wants to appoint a federal judge who for years has been in the pay of the oil companies, and who—human nature being what it is—might find his rulings from the bench leaning toward his oil clients.

The proposed judge is popular W. R. "Bob" Wallace of Oklahoma City, long-time attorney for the Magnolia Oil Company, a subsidiary of the giant Socony-Vacuum. Wallace has wandered back and forth between the Republican and Democratic parties, but has always been as good a friend to Bob Kerr as he has been to the oil companies.

In fact, he has been counsel for Magnolia Oil for so long a quarter of a century—that he is due to draw a fat pension.

Thus he might be in the highly prejudicial position of being paid by Socony-Vacuum at the same time he drew a salary from Uncle Sam for supposedly impartial rulings from the bench.

Wallace is now 55 years old—five years above the age limit usually set for federal judges. But Senator Kerr is pushing him vigorously just the same. And Bible-quoting Bob contributed so heavily to the Truman campaign fund—as did other oil interests—that Wallace's appointment is almost certain.

Note—The present policy of the Justice Department, unlike Roosevelt's, is to appoint any judge recommended by the Democratic senator in the senator's state, no matter what the judge's background.

Three Ex-Kings

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are telling friends about the great kick they got out of attending the New Orleans Mardi Gras recently. Among other things they dined with Lester Alexander and Dr. Alton Ochsner, both former kings of the Mardi Gras.

As the guests sat down, the lady who was responsible for the king of England's renunciation of his throne looked around the table and inquired of her host: "Tell me a little more about your guests."

"Dr. Ochsner," she was told, "is the famed cancer specialist. And both he and Mr. Alexander, however, are former kings of Mardi Gras."

"I am glad," replied the Duchess, "to be dining with three ex-kings."

Friendship Dividends
 "Harry Boot from The Hague was a very happy boy. This morning he did not know what to say. The burgomaster of Rotterdam gave him a real scooter. That's for you, he said, but even then Harry could not believe it."

So wrote the Het Vrije Volk of Amsterdam following the arrival of the American Legion's "Tide of Toys in Holland on the U. S. Lines American Defender. The newspaper, and scores of others in Holland, went on to describe the distribution of the toys by CARE, and the manner in which children all over the U.S.A. worked with the American Legion to collect them.

Only sour grapes expressed abroad, as was expected, was by the Communist press. Even the Communist "De Waarheid," however, couldn't entirely damn the Tide of Toys.

"The cynic will say that America sees very well that the country which influences the youth of a nation, also possesses the future," wrote De Waarheid. "But one can't neglect the warmth and cordiality, the spontaneity and devotion of thousands and thousands of American children who don't know about Communism."

and the Marshall Plan

CARE has been doing its usual expert job of distribution, while the American Legion, thanks to American Overseas Airlines, has sent four representatives to various countries to explain the message behind the belated Christmas gift.

Under the Dome

When good-natured Sen. Harry Kilgore of West Virginia finally spoke out against the high-handed methods of Senate Judiciary Clerk Richard Arens, noisy Sen. Bill Jenner of Indiana yelled back in Arens' defense. "I cannot," replied Kilgore calmly, "shout as loud as the senator from Indiana."

So many senators have acquired ghost writers that sometimes you can't tell the senator from his ghost.

The peppery statements of Sen. Ken Wherry of Nebraska are dashed off by Arthur Hachten, former ace newsmen for Hearst.

Ghosting for Senator McCarthy is George Waters, copy editor of the Washington Times-Herald. Waters has been especially active in McCarthy's State Department attacks.

Another McCarthy ghost is Ken Hunter, who masterminded Hearst's "MacArthur-for-President" campaign.

Secretary Acheson will fly to London around May 1 for the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting.

Congressman Mervyn Mansfield is smothering his bill to prevent deportation of Nazi propagandist Werner Plack. A Montana rancher sold the congressman on the idea that Plack was a worthy citizen, and he introduced a bill permitting him to stay in the U.S.A. Later Mansfield discovered Plack's real record as an aide to Goebbels, and reneged.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

March 23, 1930—The Rt. Rev. Herbert Shipman, Suffragan Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York, who was well known here, died in New York.

Miss Marie Menzel, of this city, and Frank W. Rowe, of Whiteport, were married in the Spring Street Lutheran Church.

Francisco Gallo, of Ulster Landing, died.

Mrs. Albert Rowe died in New York.

March 23, 1940—The area had its coldest March 23 in five years with a low temperature of 15 degrees.

Philip Elting, Ulster County Republican leader, who had been ill at the Benedictine Hospital, returned home.

Avea, farmers reported favorable sap weather as many maples were tapped.

The car of Levan Bryant, 100 Gage street, ran on its own down the Broadway hill from Mill street, and crashed into the Mansion House building.

Tel Aviv Plans Harbor

Tel Aviv, Israel (UPI)—This bustling Israeli city of more than 250,000 people wants its own deep water port on the Mediterranean and is laying plans to get it. Tel Aviv and its adjoining Jaffa district presently gets a share of shipping business. But most of the vessels stopping here are of comparatively small tonnage. Cargoes here have to be unloaded by lighters. David Remoz, minister of communications, told the Marine Club here that the government's immediate and urgent plan is to speed up development of Haifa port to its full capacity. But, he said, Tel Aviv-Jaffa is second on the list.

Vinson's Visit to Key West Gives President Some Person to Whom He Can Talk

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Key West, Fla., March 23—Reference has been made in these dispatches to the presence here of Chief Justice Fred Vinson. It has been announced as just a "social visit"—which it really is. After all, the President doesn't have many persons with whom he can chat about matters of state without becoming involved in somebody's ambitions or becoming entangled in the schemes or purposes of some group or faction.

It's not at all novel for presidents to talk things over with a chief justice. Members of the Supreme Court are usually men of objectivity and integrity who can give disinterested advice. Other presidents, too, have found in them a source of wisdom.

Mr. Vinson has an unusual background. He served for many years in the House of Representatives on the all-powerful ways and means committee. He was director of economic stabilization and of the office of mobilization and reconstruction during the war, and was later secretary of the treasury. What a relief for the President to sit down with such a man and talk about anything, knowing that the chief justice hasn't any axe to grind!

Naturally there is speculation when Mr. Vinson comes here. He was mentioned, it will be recalled, only a few weeks ago by the President as a man who might head a mission to Moscow if any such plan were ever thought desirable. During the 1948 campaign Mr. Truman wanted to send him to Russia, but General Marshall, then secretary of state, disapproved.

Naturally also, if Dean Acheson ever does decide to retire from his present post, the President probably would try to draft the chief justice to head the Department of State. But why should Mr. Vinson accept? Public service only would be the reason, and it would be assumed immediately in political circles that Mr. Truman had decided not to run again in 1952 and wanted to back Mr. Vinson for the post of chief justice.

One report has it that Mr. Acheson might go to the Supreme Court some day. He is, of course, one of the ablest lawyers in the country. He started his career as private secretary to the late Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, and, as between the two posts, some history of state and national affairs is not far from the top of the list of the United States, there is a little doubt among his friends that, in a professional sense, Mr. Acheson would prefer to be on the high court.

Such speculation, however, is way ahead of present-day circumstances. The fact of the matter is that the President thinks that Mr. Vinson is a man who would be far more likely to say that a Vinson mission to Moscow is more likely than a change in the secretaryship of state. Such a mission would not mean that Mr. Vinson would have to relinquish his post as chief justice. Other members of the high court in past history have served temporarily on international commissions of critical importance to the nation.

What is needed to be sure is an answer to the question: Is the American people that thing he does? about the relations between Russia and the United States?

When the speechmaker says and there are beatings on the President's door, he is providing a "modus vivendi" device of diplomacy which two opposing nations agree to find a way to live alongside each other without retreat from basic principles or fundamental values. They then only will a start be made toward a truce in the cold war.

Maybe after that it will be apparent that the chief justice is not a traitor and a fake scholar. By the foundation that isn't so, it is laid as yet that the chief justice is to be started. There's a goodly swell of opinion in America that asks that "something be done." The American people just don't like watchful drifting.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I apologize to the Bulloch family, of Georgia, to Eleanor the Great and to the few readers of these political idylls who were accidentally misled by a recent discussion of the late Governor Bulloch, of Georgia, the scrawling whose lines on earth synchronized with that of the good Confederate Bullocks, of whom he seems to have been no kin. My erroneous identification of the scrawling Bulloch as Eleanor's paternal grandfather was an accident, the more embarrassing to me because I make few mistakes and never lie. The mistakes, being few, are the leader for that.

At the end of last year, some fat old Henry Lee, the night walking lioner who runs the Time-Life axis, that you can put down in your book because no part of them will be retracted.

In a letter to Ralph McGill, the editor of the Atlanta Constitution, whose paper accidentally published the piece about the Bullocks and Bullocks for part of its run that day, I explained that I was quite willing, in my own interest, to apologize for the erroneous portion but that this would give the original error much wider publication than it had had. Mr. McGill had suggested the apology in fairness to Eleanor, although he did not feel the same chivalrous impulse in fairness to me, that when straining at a gnat to strike a blow at Pegler, in Eleanor's behalf, The Constitution printed a false quotation against me, falsely attributed to Heywood Brown.

My interpretation of the line of descent from the Bullocks of Georgia was an honest error. Mr. McGill asserts that the good Bulloch spelled their name that way whereas the scrawling governor spelled his name B-u-l-l-o-c-k. But Karl Schiffiger, the family historian, refers to the good Bullocks both that way and with the "k". Moreover, neither he nor Eleanor ever mentioned the father of Martha Bulloch who became the mother of the first President Roosevelt and of Elihu Root, the dissolute, the father of our empire. In view of flagrant references in her works to a "cousin" of Eleanor's, Mr. McGill's reference of Eleanor to the New York state cap, I therefore was seduced into a reasonable surmise that the names were concealing something.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 to 1 choice Creamo in Taste-Test

Housewives will be interested to know Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown faster in the past few years than the combined average of all other brands. This is due to the fact that Creamo is the only margarine made with cream.

In taste tests between Creamo and the most expensive type breads, participating school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1.

Users say Creamo's creamy-rich flavor is so distinctively delicious, the first taste is noticeably more flavorful than ordinary spreads.

It's more economical, too. The extra flavor goes so much farther than ordinary spreads.

It Never Pays To Trust to Luck

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

To count your tricks in today's hand involves slightly complicated mathematics. Nevertheless, if you will take the time to visualize the possibilities, rather than trust to luck, it is not difficult to make the proper safety play that will bring home the contract.

On the opening lead of the ten of diamonds, the queen is played from dummy. East goes up with the ace and declarer has to trump with the seven of hearts.

Now declarer cannot take it for granted that the trumps are going to break well. He must guard against a bad break in trump. Can he make the contract, even if they break badly? He already has shortened himself down to three trumps by ruffing a diamond.

If he plans to ruff a club in dummy, he will have only three trumps left there; and if one of the opponents has four trumps, they are sure to make a trump trick.

Declarer's first play should be a spade to dummy, finessing the queen. East will win this trick with the king, and a spade return is as safe as anything else. This declarer should win in dummy with the ace and now he should not lead a trump.

He should play the four of diamonds and trump it with the eight of hearts. If he is looking ahead and counting his tricks, he will see that he can discard dummy's losing seven of diamonds and the fourth spade on his ace and queen of clubs.

Having trumped the diamond, South should cash the ace and jack of hearts, then lead a small club to dummy's king. The king and queen of hearts pick up West's remaining trumps, declarer discarding two small clubs.

The king of diamonds should then be cashed and another losing club discarded. Next a spade is played from dummy, won by declarer with the jack and the ace and queen of clubs cashed.

Thus he makes two spade tricks, four hearts, two ruffs, the king of diamonds and three clubs—12 tricks for his contract.

As Pegler Sees It

Let's genealogical lowdown ran for two editions in the Atlanta Constitution. (King features had spotted the error, sent a belated "kill.") Caught up, Pegler retracted his error.

That is typical lifestyle journalism. King features did not catch the error. Pegler caught it on his own initiative and his kill was in the Constitution after when the Constitution ran the story.

Pegler now asserts that Priscilla Hiss, the wife of Alger Hiss, formerly was Luce's personal editorial assistant. She was not his secretary nor his clerk without authority but assistant to Henry Luce, editor. She started with Time as a "researcher." In the Timefile Jargon this means the kind who plants facts in the preparation of distortions like the one here cited and tries to intimidate businessmen with threats to "get the facts anyway" if they refuse to give up confidences to Henry Luce. From the "researcher" Priscilla Hiss became Luce's office manager, a powerful position, and, finally, assistant to Henry Luce.

Whittaker Chambers, the accused of Hiss, was one of Luce's chief editors. Nobody like Priscilla Hiss ever worked for Westbrook Pegler.

U. S. Airmen Will Have 'New Look' This Summer

General distribution of the distinctive blue uniform to personnel of the United States Air Force will begin this summer, Master Sergeant A. H. McGinnis, station commander of the Kingston area army and air force recruiting station, announced today.

He said that after September 1 every airman should have been issued one complete uniform if he has over 12 months active duty to complete. The regular olive drab uniform will continue to be worn during normal duty work. The blue uniform will be worn during ceremonies, parades, formal occasions and off duty.

of water meters for sums "in excess of $300,000,000." They also charged that outlets to various reservoirs had been "manipulated" so as to give the appearance of being dangerously low.

More widespread compulsory use of water meters has been suggested as a means to cut down water usage.

Legion Asks Curb

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The American Legion urged Congress today to put stringent curbs on communism. James F. Green of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the Legion's Americanism Commission, told the House Un-American Activities Committee that it's "fool-hardy" to spend billions in an effort to contain communism abroad, while "blinding ourselves to the dangers at home."

Other figures cited from the witness show that whereas, in 1937, there were 2,302 employees who earned a total of $3,676,963, in 1949 there were only 1,382 workers who earned $4,581,082.

The average wages in the period rose from $1,684 per person to $3,314 each.

Also drove home the figures with the question: "And in that period, while the employees were being paid between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, the shareholders received nothing at all, is that right?"

stone, cement and other construction needs. East Branch, Fallsburgh and Livingston Manor would be among the points affected.

As to other business, that depends on the industry generally, he said vaguely.

Other testimony contemplated to offset the demand for a wage increase came from William F. Matheson, vice-president and auditor of the O & W, who was put on the stand by Alsop.

He produced figures showing the railroad has had a deficit in net income every year from 1937 to date. They ranged in size from $1,124,523, which was the loss in 1942, to a high of $3,018,515 in 1946. Last year's loss was $2,173,909, bringing the accumulated deficit to $38,132,380.

with the question: "And in that period, while the employees were being paid between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, the shareholders received nothing at all, is that right?"

The witness agreed. If the absence of Elbert N. Oakes attorney for the trustees, now all, the question of the wage rise for non-operating employees was adjourned to April 20.

Judge Edward A. Conger reserved decision on the question of the increase to operating employees. Under the proposal between the trustees and the railroad brotherhoods, the rise would be effective on April 1.

Forecasts Further Arrests

Des Moines, March 23 (AP)—U. S. Senator B. B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) said last night "there will be several more rather startling arrests" of those suspected of violating atomic security. "Some of the arrests are in progress at this time," the former chairman of the congressional Atomic Energy Committee said in addressing a church meeting. "The evidence is tremendous that security was being violated."

Tallamy Is Named Thruway Leader; Others Appointed

Albany, N. Y., March 23.—Theodore D. Tallamy, the state's first thruway chief, has been named by Governor Dewey as head of the New State Thruway Authority.

Other two members appointed last night, Mr. R. Burdell, of Hudson, Dewey's executive assistant, and David J. Matus, of New York city. Matus, a graduate civil engineer, is manager of the New York Athletic Club. He is a close friend of Mayor William O'Dwyer, who endorsed the Thruway project. Dewey said that Tallamy and Matus would remain on their present jobs and draw no salary from the Thruway Authority.

The Thruway, which Dewey expects will be completed in four years, will extend from New York city to Albany, west to Buffalo and southwest to the Pennsylvania state line. Dewey has suggested the use of special annual license plates for Thruway users, ranging from 10¢ for passenger automobiles to 50¢ for heavy commercial vehicles.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 23.—Mrs. Edward Martin of Newark, N. J., the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Martin, at their home on Ewen street.

Carolyn Burr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burr, was the guest of honor at a birthday party given for her on Saturday, March 23, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Burr, in Port Ewen. The party was given in celebration of her 18th birthday. Games were played and refreshments were served. Guests attending were Geraldine Burr, Sandra Deane, Barbara Burr, Shirley Louise Vincent and Joyce Munson.

The Presentation Women's Club will sponsor a food sale at the Port of Esopus Auditorium, Sunday, April 8, from 2 to 4 p.m. The following committee will be in charge: Mrs. Veronica Hansen, Mrs. Helen Beaver, Mrs. Mary Watson and Mrs. Margaret Reynolds.

The Dutch Society will hold a sale at the Reformed Church hall, Tuesday, March 26, at 8 p.m. Members and friends are invited.

Says Is Cost Job

San Francisco, March 23.—A handsome young bachelor says his friendship with the daughter of the Philippine President cost him his job. Lennart Jackell, 26, of New York, who is a delegate to a world convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, newspapers called their friendship romance. Jackell said there wasn't any romance, but he stayed nine days after the convention at the invitation of President Quirino. He couldn't refuse the presidential bid, he explained. Retained home, he said, the travel agency which employed him informed him he was out of a job. The reason given was too much publicity, and he extended absence. Jackell reported his discharge in a statement issued by an attorney. The employer did not comment.

Republicans began calling their political party the Grand Old Party soon after the Civil War.

Secretive Is Going Home

London, March 23 (AP)—Secretive Khama, black-headed African chief, a young home tomorrow but is afraid the British government may not let him stay long. The government has barred him from the chiefdomship and territory of the Bamangwato tribe in British Bechuanaland for five years on the ground his rule would split the tribe. But it will let him go back for a while to gather evidence for a lawsuit and he will stay in London until he can get his white paper. The former Ruth Williams of London, who has a baby, expected next summer. In a white paper issued yesterday, the government said the length of his stay would depend upon "his conduct and the interests of order and good government in the territory."

BILLION DOLLAR BUGS—The Department of Agriculture has warned that four insect pests may cause record-breaking crop damage of close to $1,000,000,000 this year. The Newsmag above shows major areas that will be affected. Boll weevils, in record numbers throughout the southern cotton belt, will probably cause more than their estimated 5470,000,000 damage last year. Corn borers, wintering in the midwestern corn belt, are expected to exceed the $350,000,000 crop damage they did last year. Grasshoppers offer greatest threats to Montana, North Dakota and Wyoming, the warning says, but farmers from Texas to Canada and west to California may have to fight the pests. Further, the great wheat plants of the southwest face attacks from greenbugs, one of the most highly destructive small grain pests, which wintered in Texas and Oklahoma.

The violence accompanied a wave of Red-inspired strikes and rallies protesting new public security measures imposed by the rightist government.

DEATH 'CONFUSING' New York City

Mrs. Pauline G. Molony (above), 40, whose body was found outside the Waterbury, Vt., Inn operated by her husband, did not die of natural causes, State's Attorney Reginald Abare said March 22. He said that the authorities are "more confused than ever" concerning her death. There is a possibility of accidental death even though "there is some evidence of foul play," Abare said. (A.P. Bill Is Opposed

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Lenders of four major farm organizations joined today in opposing a House bill which would require that agricultural surpluses be used as part of American foreign aid. In a joint letter to members of Congress, the lenders said they support the bill $3,100,000,000 cash request of President Truman for the Economic Cooperation Administration. The farm officials are: Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; John H. Davis, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmers Cooperatives; James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union; and Albert S. Gory, master of the National Grange.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 23 (AP)—The stock market ran into trouble today soon after a speedy advance at the opening of trade.

Gains remained in a decisive majority but in most cases they were under the best levels of the day. A sprinkling of issues backed into the minus column.

The market climbed to a new 3 1/2-year peak at the start. Buying orders flooded into the exchange so fast that for a brief period the high-speed ticker tape fell behind in recording transactions on the floor. Big blocks of stock were all over the tape.

Business continued at a fast clip but without producing much in the way of price changes. Investment buying was still rated as the market's major prop. Speculative stocks also came in for attention. Profit-taking sales, though, gave the market an ample supply of stock.

Several of yesterday's favorites were noted for losses of fractions to around two points. In this group were U. S. Leather Common and Preferred, Western Union and the preferred stocks of American & Foreign Power. American Telephone, however, gained more than a point at one time and held most of the advance. This issue has been much in demand lately.

Consolidated Mining fell back along with American Marcellus, Kirby Petroleum, N. J. Zinc, Pan-Atlantic Oil, Selected Industries, Inc., and United Light.

Ellenville G.O.P. Candidates Win In Hot Election

Jack Siegel and Joseph Gentile, Republican candidates to succeed themselves as village trustees of the village of Ellenville, were re-elected Tuesday at the village election by an overwhelming vote. They defeated their Democratic opponents Philip Kinberg and Archie Hall in one of the village's most hotly contested elections in years.

During the day despite the bad weather which left from 7 to 8 inches of snow on the streets, 1334 voters applied to vote at the election which was held in Hunt Memorial Hall.

Final tabulation of the vote gave Siegel 838 votes and Joseph Gentile 772 votes. Hall received 461 and Kinberg 493.

Siegel has served four years as a village trustee and Gentile three years, he having been appointed to fill a vacancy.

The election was a hotly contested affair with the issues being carried up to the very line of the election. On Monday night a four-page circular was spread throughout the village as a last minute appeal to the Democratic voters.

Re-election of Siegel and Gentile leaves the village board still Democratic. There were two Democratic trustees elected last year and Mayor Schipp is a Democrat.

Perfect Forest

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—California foresters have been working 50 years but are still babes in the woods, says Prof. F. S. Baker, dean of the School of Forestry at the University of California. That's a very short time in the life of many trees, he says. And the ideal forest is a long way off, he asserts. In his opinion it would be one that would furnish an even quota of wood every year—forever. That means it would have enough trees to utilize its growing capacity. Only the oldest would be cut, the age classes would be distributed properly, and cut areas would be reseeded so that normal growth could continue, he says.

Watches Clocks

Peora, Ill. (AP)—Fred E. Brown has been a clock watcher for 50 years. He soon will round out a half century of teaching students how to repair clocks and watches at Bradley University's school of horology.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

The Wiltwyck Hose Co. has quite a write up in the Kingston Daily Freeman of Friday, Sept. 9, 1887, as taken from Raphael Cohen's scrap book. It reads in part: "Last night the streets in the vicinity of Fair street Engine House, were crowded with men and women who assembled to see the parade of Wiltwyck Hose Co. The house was brilliantly lighted Chinese lanterns were strung in rows, and the front of the building was profusely covered with flags and bunting. Over the street was suspended a large banner containing the word 'Wiltwyck' in large letters.

"When the evening train north on the West Shore railroad arrived at the Junction, it was met by Cornelius Burhans in a carriage drawn by four white horses to receive Chester B. Bradley, president of the American Order of Firemen, and several other high standing officials. At 7 o'clock Goeller's Band struck up a lively air, and members of the Wiltwyck Hose put themselves in parade form. The active members hauled their handsome carriage, which was highly polished, and glittered under the light of the torches. The line of march went down to Hasbrouck avenue and covered Union avenue (now Broadway). At the carriage shop of Louis Kolts, the newly painted 'Jumper' and hook and ladder truck were received. The honorary members taking the ropes of the 'Jumper' four white horses being attached to the truck. All along the line of march people illuminated their residences, with handsome decorations. Fireworks were set off at intervals. On Union avenue people turned out by thousands to witness the pageant. There were many bursts of rockets and the blazing fires of tar barrels everywhere along the whole length of the avenue.

"Members of the Common Council stood on the piazza of the Eagle Hotel and reviewed the procession. As the parade turned up Fair street from Main, a number of tar barrels were fired and bright sparks were lighting the street for several blocks, appeared like some great conflagration.

"A tribute was paid to the volunteer firemen of Kingston City who went to the war in 1881, leaving their homes and families in answer to the call of duty. Still another speaker stirred up the firemen by referring to the old song with 'Snake her up' 'Snake her up'."

In notes on the parade it said in part: "The paved streets were free from mud, and the firemen found it pleasant march."

The display of Chinese lanterns in Kingston was large. The prettiest were the oval shaped.

Corporation Counsel Linson formally presented to Wiltwyck Hose last night the hook and ladder truck. . . . Members of the Common Council of the City of Kingston joined in parading with the firemen. . . . Blue and red fireworks do a great deal towards making a parade a success.

One of the prettiest decorations was a large horse chestnut tree, on Wall street, nearly covered with Chinese lanterns. Hose Co. No. 2's quarters were decorated handsomely. The men burned 13 tar barrels in honor of the event. Some of the flags used to decorate the dwellings were so large that they covered the front of the entire buildings. Parades in those days were handsome affairs, today one part of town can have a parade and the other part of town never knows it's going on, not in these days, everyone joined the festivities."

It says in the scrap book, Wiltwyck Hose Co. was first organized in 1854. It was reorganized in 1880. The parlors of Wiltwyck Hose are handsomely furnished, floor covered with Axminster carpet, chairs and sofas of black walnut, upholstered in velvet and satin, with carved initials of the company upon the woodwork of each piece. There is a Haines Grand concert piano. The Hook and Ladder truck is valued at $1,500. It is painted a lilac color, and ladders are in light blue, similar to the hook and ladder truck at Tarrytown as displayed in Kingston at a parade years ago."

Fire Losses Reduced

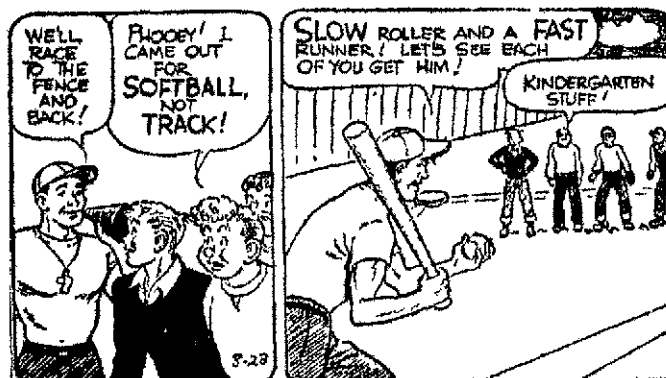

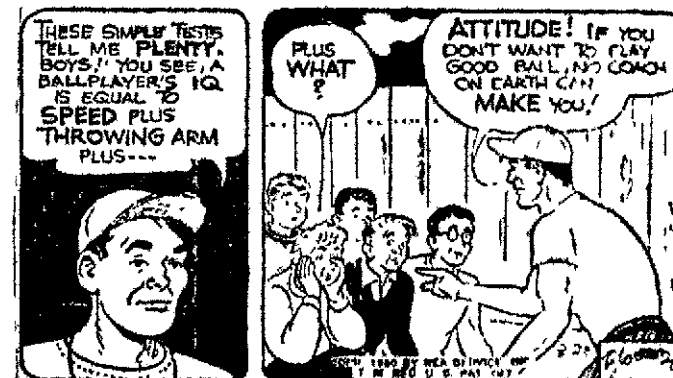

New York (AP)—Newspapers of the United States are given much of the credit for the decrease in fire losses in the past year. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that 1949 fire losses were 61 per cent below the all-time high of $711,114,000 recorded in 1948. Wendell Sether, public information director of the National Board, says "newspapers in all parts of the country helped people save lives and property by educating the public to prevent fires, support modern fire departments and adopt better fire prevention laws."

"Say 'HELLO' to Grandma"
—by long distance

Baby words are precious words. They're doubly dear to grandparents who live out of town, and can't see as much of their grandchildren as they'd like.

Fortunately, you can bridge hundreds or even thousands of miles in just a few moments by long distance telephone.

Most calls are put through in a minute or so. And the cost, as you'll see by glancing at the rates below, is remarkably modest.

How to telephone out of town at bargain rates:

First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers your call.

Secondly, take advantage of low night and Sunday rates, generally in effect from 8 p.m. to 4.30 a.m. weekdays and all day Sunday.

It costs so little to call—

Here are typical Station-to-Station night and Sunday rates from Census Job Begins

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The 1950 census-taking job started in earnest today as postal carriers began distributing farm census forms in rural area mail boxes.

over much of the nation. Farmers who receive farm census forms by mail are requested to fill out the answers and turn in the complete forms to enumerators when they arrive with population questions next month. The general production and housing census is scheduled to take about two weeks in the cities and three to four weeks in the rural areas where more ground must be covered.

Kaye Goes to Opera

New York, March 23 (AP)—To movie comedian Danny Kaye, it "sounds fantastic." But it's true. The Metropolitan Opera has offered him a role next season. Cf-course, it's a non-singing role. But Kaye says the offer is "very flattering" and he intends to accept it if he can fit the opera appearance into his prior entertainment commitments. Rudolf Bing, new general manager of the Met, said he made the offer to Kaye yesterday because "he is one of the best artists alive." Bing said he would like to have Kaye play the comic speaking role of Froch, a drunken jester, in the Johann Strauss opera, "Die Fledermaus."

Engineer Forecasts
Water Shortage

Delhi, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—The engineer for the New York City Board of Water Supply expects the metropolis will be facing another water shortage by the time the Pepacton reservoir has been built in Delaware county.

The project is scheduled for completion in 1956.

James M. Fitzgerald made the prediction yesterday when he testified at a public hearing on New York city's proposal to build another dam and reservoir at near-by Cannonsville. The hearing continues today.

Delaware county officials and representatives of the county's dairy industry protested the plan at the hearing conducted by the State Water Power and Control Commission. Objections are on file from 60 organizations and individuals.

Fitzgerald contended the $140,000,000 Cannonsville project on the east branch of the Delaware river, was "justified."

New York city's water consumption, he argued, will have increased so much by the time the Pepacton reservoir, 20 miles from Cannonsville, has been completed that the city will be plagued by another shortage.

Fitzgerald estimated that by 1960 the city would need an additional 200,000,000 gallons a day. That he said, would make the total daily requirement 1,405,000,000 gallons.

Robert W. Armstrong, chairman of the board of consulting engineers of the New York city Board of Water Supply, also testified in support of the Cannonsville project.

He estimated it would cost $140,000,000 and would store 97,000,000,000 gallons of water, with a daily yield of 285,000,000 gallons.

Applies for Retirement

New York, March 23 (AP)—Detective Edward J. Moroney, 43, of 35 Bay Fourth street, Brooklyn, a member of the bomb squad, has applied for retirement effective Saturday night. It was learned yesterday at headquarters. Approval of his retirement is considered certain. Shortly after his acceptance he will be sworn in by Mayor John J. Scully, Jr., as captain of police—and sole member of the force—of the village of head-of-harbor, Smithtown, Suffolk County, L. I. It is a community of 1,700 acres, 300 residents, and 10 miles of road. He will live with his mother in Nesconset, another of Smithtown's villages.

9,000 Added to Rolls

New York, March 23 (AP)—More than 9,000 persons were added to city relief rolls last month, two-thirds of them because of "chronic unemployment," Welfare Commissioner Raymond M. Hilliard said yesterday if case loads continued to increase at the present rate, his estimate that the department would need $205,000,000 for the next fiscal year would "prove to be inadequate."

COOKIES STILL POPULAR AS EVER

FAVORITE TREAT—Please your family by taking time to bake tasty home-made cookies. They go wonderfully with ice cream.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

A batch of cookies baking in the oven (or a pungent coffee cake) fills the house with wonderful fragrance. Everyone feels happier. So how about a couple of good spicy recipes.

Oatmeal Spice Cookies
(About 6 dozen cookies)

One cup boiling water, 1 cup seedless raisins, 2/3 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 6 tablespoons raisins in liquid, 2 cups quick-cooking oatmeal, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 1 cup chopped dates.

Four boiling water over raisins and let stand while mixing butter. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Beat eggs into mixture. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda and spices, stir into batter.

Drain raisins and add 6 tablespoons of the liquid from raisins to batter. Stir in oatmeal, walnut meats and dates. Drop cookie batter by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased heat-resistant glass utility dish, 3-quart size. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes.

Nut-Spice Coffee Cake
(8 servings)

One and one-half cups sifted flour, 2/3 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cloves 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/3 cup shortening, 1 egg, beaten, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2/3 cup milk, 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats.

Sift together into bowl the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and spices. Cut in shortening with fork or pastry blender until mixture is like coarse crumbs. Reserve 1/4 cup of this mixture for top of coffee cake. To rest of crumb mixture add beaten egg, molasses and milk; mix lightly.

Pour into large yellow heat-resistant glass refrigerator dish which has been well greased. Sprinkle top of coffee cake with remaining 1/4 cup of crumb mixture and the chopped walnut meats. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for about 45 minutes.

Serve piping hot coffee cake from the oven-refrigerator dish in which it is baked; keep fresh in the covered dish and reheat in the same dish.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned citrus juice, soft-cooked eggs, nut-spice coffee cake, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Clam chowder, pilot crackers, toasted peanut butter and chili sauce sandwiches, baked apples, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled salmon steaks, lemon parsley butter, potato balls, grilled tomato halves topped with chopped green pepper and onion, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, cole slaw, fruit cup, oatmeal spice cookies, coffee, milk.

Ruger, Mrs. Alfred Stokes, Jr., and Mrs. William Stamatides were appointed to serve on a joint committee. Plans are being made for the annual spring supper sponsored by the Dutch Circle on Thursday, May 25. More details will be announced. Dole is being dressed by the members of the Ladies Aid and Dutch Circle to be sent to mission fields.

Pfc. John Otis who is stationed at Fort Meade, Md., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Otis.

Charles Dubois has sold his home to Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer, Jr. Mr. Dubois will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Upright.

The Forest Glen Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Hubert Stern Thursday night. Mrs. Giles Randall, Sr., food leader, gave the third lesson in meal planning. Ten members were present. Plans were made for next year's program. The unit will hold a food sale April 22. The time and place will be announced.

The fire department was called to the home of Hans Andersen Saturday night. The fire was extinguished with slight damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeGraff have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Louise to Edward William Clarke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward William Clarke of Walden at the Walden Methodist Church Sunday, April 9. A reception will follow the ceremony at the Gardner Hotel.

Returns Are Requested For Federation Dinner

Paul E. Barnum, secretary of the Federation of Protestant

Men's Clubs, requested today that all men who have tickets for the Men's Club communion dinner to make final reports Friday night before 9 o'clock to Donald White, telephone 189-J.

The dinner will follow a 5 p. m. communion service Sunday, March 26, at St. James Methodist Church. Assemblyman Orlo Brees has been secured as the guest speaker.

Secretary Barnum also requested men of the various clubs to secure their tickets for the dinner immediately from either the club president or the church minister.

Members of the Mendelssohn Club who will sing during the Federation communion service and who do not have robes are asked to contact Secretary Barnum by Saturday.

Bills Cleanup

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—A session providing sentences up to 15 years for sex offenders was sent to Governor Dewey in the closing days of the 1950 session today. The bill, based on a study of sex offenders in Sing Sing, would forbid parole of such offenders until they had been confined "good risks" after paying treatment.

The bill also was sent to the governor out of provisions of a bill to amend the school construction law.

The bill would:

- place a commission to study the need for school construction and expansion;
- provide emergency state loans to school districts to help with school construction;
- provide preliminary approval to a school district's plan to increase the number of pupils in order to facilitate school building. The amendment must be approved by next year's Legislature and the voters in November, 1951, to become effective.

Permanent Status

New York's five institutes of physical and sciences at New York, Buffalo, Binghamton, White Plains and Utica were voted permanent status by the Legislature in its latest session in 1949. The experimental basis had been scheduled to expire August 1, 1950.

The state retirement system also was permitted to use up to 10 percent of its funds to erect an office building, under terms of a measure given final approval.

No specific location is mentioned in the bill, and a spokesman for the system said that no site had been selected.

A ban against use of alcohol and gambling in state institutions was suspended for another year.

Waitresses would be permitted to work after midnight in restaurants under terms of a bill sent to the governor. Present law forbids them to work between midnight and 6 a. m.

Governor Dewey also received a bill to prevent holders of junior "senior" licenses from driving after dark. The proposal repealed the permission granted by last year's Legislature to the 16 to 18-year-old drivers.

Villages Can Levy

Final approval also was given to a measure permitting first-class villages to levy a one per cent tax on gross incomes of utilities.

The lawmakers voted to permit welfare officials to continue to compel alcoholics to attend treatment to work on county, city or town projects. The bill would be effective until July 1, 1951.

The joint legislative committee on problems of the aging was continued for another year, until March 31, 1951.

Both Houses passed and sent to the governor a bill to set up a fair-trade law for the state retail liquor industry. It is intended to prevent price wars in the retail packaged field of intoxicants and would replace a law declared unconstitutional by the court of appeals Feb. 23.

The state commercial and business rent control laws for New York city would be ended and continued another year, until July 1, 1951, under terms of two bills sent to Governor Dewey today for his expected signature. The controls apply in New York city only.

Wicks Wins . . .

However, should not be presented to the legislature until such time as thorough ground work has been done in every municipality by the members of your organization."

The ground work, he pointed out, would include conferences with city officials, determination of costs and the number of additional patrolmen needed to make the law workable on local levels.

Incidentally, Wicks is the father of the eight-hour day law for patrolmen, and has been regarded as their "godfather" in the Legislature.

The bill providing a 40-hour work week for policemen was passed by the Assembly but died in the Senate Civil Service Committee.

Fears Unfair Action

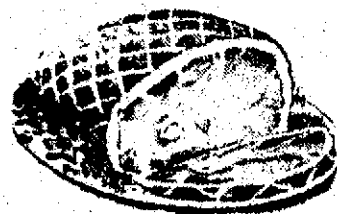

Relative to this criticism, the Senator said he opposed a state law making a 40 hour week mandatory because:

1. Cities have the right at present to cut the 48-hour working week of policemen, if they so desire.
2. Every city would have to hire more policemen (probably eight in Kingston) and department payrolls would increase to the extent that would force taxes to go up.
3. It would be unfair for the State Legislature to force the various mayors to meet another tax problem when they are already burdened with expenses that they find hard to meet.
4. It is practically admitted by the police that if the proposition were to be put up for a referendum vote the public would be against the 40 hour week as creating another tax problem in face of recent pay raises given patrolmen.

"we will have to come back at a special session and do it." He said he believed rent control was essential to the welfare of hundreds of thousands of tenants in the state.

The Legislature, which had moved through a dull election-year session until the rent issue exploded, adjourned sine die at 3:44 a. m. (E.S.T.).

The Dewey rent bill authorizes the state to take over the administration of residential rent controls May 1 from the federal government and from New York city. It freezes rents in all areas now under U. S. or local controls. The state rent administrator, however, will be empowered to restore ceilings in areas decontrolled since March 1, 1949, by the federal housing expediter.

The measure also will permit "minor" service increases in rents after July 1. After Dec. 1, increases may be authorized to landlords losing money and to relieve "gross inequities" based on rentals for comparable facilities. The Democrats denounced the Dewey measure as a "landlord bill." They tried and failed in the Assembly to substitute their own bill for the administration measure.

Calls It 'Tenant Bill'

Wicks called the Dewey measure a "tenant bill." Republicans described it as the "tightest" rent law ever written. Late amendments added several provisions designed to meet Democratic criticism.

Commenting on the Legislature's action, Dewey said: "I am deeply gratified by action of the Legislature in passing, as I was sure it would, rent control legislation. The people of the state can now be assured of safe, well-administered rent control and of secure protection against runaway rent increases."

The startling, pre-adjournment end to the rent control impasse was fraught with political significance.

O'Connell obviously was not out to do Dewey any favor.

The Democratic chief was represented as believing that his party would suffer at the polls next fall if its zeal to beat Dewey's rent control bill resulted in adjournment of the Legislature with no rent measure passed.

O'Connell was reported to have reasoned that Dewey would gain dramatic new prestige if he then called the Legislature into special session and forced passage of a rent control act. Federal controls are expected to lapse June 30.

Set Stage for Dewey

The Republican Legislature leadership apparently set a stage for Dewey to make political capital when he signs his rent control bill.

After the lawmakers passed the administration bill, they also passed and sent to Dewey the rival Democratic bill and a stand-by rent measure which the Westchester bloc advocated.

Dewey, it was reported, would point to what he considers weaknesses in those two measures in contrast to claimed advantages of his bill. It presumably will be a continuation of political maneuvering by both sides with an eye on the Nov. 7 state elections.

The chief loser in political developments of the legislative session seemed to be the Democratic state chairman, Paul E. Fitzpatrick.

Ground under the state organization's bitter opposition to Dewey's Thruway Authority plan was cut away by New York Mayor William O'Dwyer's endorsement of the project.

Passage of Dewey's rent control bill with Dalessandro's Democratic vote obviously undercut Fitzpatrick's strategy on that issue.

Eggs, Chickens and Lamb Go Higher in Retail Stores

(By The Associated Press)

Eggs, chicken and lamb cost a little more in most retail stores this week. Most pork cuts were a couple of cents a pound cheaper. Beef, veal and dairy items held about unchanged.

Price advances in produce departments were confined mostly to good quality Macintosh apples, beets and cucumbers. There was a wide range in quality of lettuce and prices were generally lower.

PAST CATCHES UP

Michael Conco (above), 40-year-old produce dealer, who took a new name and became a successful merchant in Baltimore after escaping from a Pennsylvania prison, sits in a police car on the first part of his journey back to prison. Mike's new life ended when Detective George W. Green of the Saratoga, Pa., police department knocked at his front door. Green had arrested Conco back in 1933 for a series of hold-ups. Green received a tip a few days ago that Conco was living in Baltimore under the name of Mike Russo. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Girl, 15, Puts Baby Out in Snowstorm

Riverhead, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—A baby that spent its first 42 minutes of life naked in a snowstorm was reported doing nicely at a hospital today.

So was the infant's mother, a 15-year-old Negro girl who gave birth to the child Tuesday in an empty room at Riverhead Junior High School while her classmates were at recess.

Alone and unattended during the birth, the girl became frightened afterward, and carried the baby outside, abandoning it under some trees, police said. School officials learned of the event about a half hour later and called police. The young mother was found back in class. After questioning, police said, she led them into the school yard where the infant, a six-pound, one-ounce girl, was crying heartily in the snow.

The mother, whose name was not disclosed because of her age, and the child were rushed to Eastern Long Island Hospital at Greenvale.

Police said Robert James Swan, 19, Negro, of Aquebogue, N. Y., was named by the girl as the father, but that he denied it. He was booked on a second degree rape charge, and held in $1,000 bail for grand jury action.

Ex-Convict Detained In Search for Killers

New York, March 23 (AP)—The five-year search for the killers of wealthy Albert Longford at the fashionable Hotel Marguery took on new life today after the detention of an ex-convict.

Although police said the prisoner is not a suspect himself, Acting Chief Inspector Conrad Rothengast described him as "one of many men" that the police want to question about the unsolved Park avenue murder.

The man, 44-year-old Edison Cable, was picked up Tuesday and arraigned yesterday on a charge of possession of burglar's tools. He was arrested near Central Park West by three detectives who recognized him, and who said he was carrying burglar equipment.

The unremitting search for Longford's killers has never turned up a likely suspect or even a likely motive.

The wealthy textile sales manager was killed in the doorway of his Marguery suite on June 4, 1945, by two men who had asked to see his wife, a drama and music patroness.

Langford, 63, relayed their request to his wife in her bedroom, and was shot down when he returned to tell the callers she did not want to see them.

Tunnel Lane Opened

New Haven, Conn., March 23 (AP) — The westbound lane of the West Rock Tunnel on the cross parkway, blocked by an ice slide yesterday morning, was opened to two-way traffic at 11 o'clock last night. Highway department crews labored all day to clear away the 10-ton ice barricade which cascaded from the twin ventilating shafts and spread across the 1,200 yard long tunnel just before noon. No cars were passing through the tunnels when the slide occurred. Traffic in both directions was detoured through Hamden and New Haven for 12 hours.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

According to recent reliable reports from industry the key word in a capitalistic economy—"productivity"—is making news.

Every college student knows, or should know, that it is production that produces jobs, our standard of living, and wealth. That is, he should know unless he has been exposed only to the deceptive light of Keynesian boot-strap economics.

In this article, however, let us skip Keynes, and focus on productivity because for the first time since the war industrial production is picking up in efficiency—picking up, according to the measurement of shop-owners, in production per man-hour.

Increased shop efficiency is due, apparently, to two factors: (a) Primarily to new machines that cut labor costs and speed up production per-hour-of-work-per-man, and (b) to the fact that workers have become more productive individually. This latter is probably accounted for by the rather persistent rise in unemployment in recent months, the mild slump last year that suggested jobs might not always be so plentiful, and the influence of the installations of new labor-saving machinery.

America jumped into first place among nations of the world many decades ago because of the genius of industrial efficiency and mass production.

Everything sailed along smoothly until efficiency became so pronounced that production forged ahead, and stayed ahead, of consumption. We then passed into an era when the expression "under-consumption" became the by-word, and when economic quackdoctors commenced to prescribe panaceas for our ills. The common prescription was "more money"—pump "purchasing power" into the stream of trade and everything will be all right.

After the war, of course, consumption was not a problem—everybody wanted goods faster than even our amazing productive system could turn them out. However, along in 1948 manufacturers began to see that the bloom was fading off the rose and they knew they had to find a way to cut costs if they expected to stay in business. With wages in an ever-rising spiral labor-saving machinery became essential.

As we look around the country today and read industrial reports and surveys, we learn that manufacturers got busy quickly. They have already largely licked the problem of shop efficiency and costs. However, there is much installation of machinery uncompleted. Machinery sales and orders that are currently booming testify to this.

The paradox of this whole question will soon again confront us: High production, yet gradually rising unemployment.

The old headache of the 'twenties and 'thirties seems destined to be with us again soon. How are we going to increase production fast enough to absorb more workers (some 600,000 are added to the labor force annually) and yet not glut the markets with goods and products that cannot be sold?

The Ruminator said he was going to leave Keynes out of this article, but the Keynesian theory of "making" purchasing through adding to the money supply must be mentioned because it is the first-time attack on under-consumption by administration officials and others whose influence counts.

When the working population increases faster than jobs, you are sure to hear a great hue and cry from Washington and from labor organizations. We have had the first taste of this in C.E.A. Acting Chairman Keyserling's address recently that production will have to go far above normal expansion if we are to avoid a huge army of unemployed. It won't be long before we hear that if private business cannot make jobs for everyone who wants one then the government will have to "take over" the problem.

We are, therefore, probably about to encounter some heavy doses of New Dealism. Business will be told it is not expanding fast enough. Blue prints for economic controls and forced expansion of industry will be brought forth.

In the meantime, if business itself can find ways and means of cutting distribution costs—as it has cut manufacturing costs—it might be able to ward off the on-croachment of government controls. By and large it still costs about as much to sell goods and distribute them as it did thirty years ago. It costs about as much percentage, for instance, to get a pair of shoes on the consumer's feet.

Increased production requires expansion of sales—which in turn comes from lower prices. If selling expenses can be cut American business can still survive without the government "taking over."

Your Budget, too, says "WELCOME SPRING!"

How about it—got that "new-car" fever?

Got a hankering to take hold of a brand-new wheel—touch off the power in a smooth, firm, lively new engine—get out to meet spring in fresh new styling and sparkling colors?

Got a suppressed desire to make it really something good this time—and step away in a Fireballing new Buick, with all its room and comfort and standout styling?

Well—why not?

You know there's no better buy you can make—and no wider choice than you're going to find among Buick's array of beauties for 1950.

You know there's no livelier action—no smoother ride—no roomier comfort for the money than you'll find right here.

And if you don't know it—we'd like to repeat this:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a 1950 Buick.

The SPECIAL's prices start just above the lowest bracket. You can choose between thrifty standard-finish models—and de luxe versions a bit richer in trim and outside finish.

You can have a Coupe, two-door or four-door models—sleek-lined jetbacks or tourbacks with roomy luggage compartments.

You can dress them up, if you like, with a long list of added equipment—including 1950 Dynaflo Drive* for instance—or hold the list down to the essentials everyone wants.

And your budget is going to find continuing reason to be content that you blossomed out in a Buick.

For in the hands of owners, the SPECIAL is proving thrifty to run as well as thrifty to buy—and what more could you ask?

Which suggests—why not see your Buick dealer now, and ask him the exact details and prices, trade-ins, delivery and terms?

Kingston's Most Famous Old Dutch Bell Was Once Declared 'Good for Nothing'

The most famous bell in Kingston—the bell of the First Dutch Church—was once declared to be "good for nothing," Mrs. E. Van Tassel told the Twentieth Century Club Monday in a discussion of the role of the bell in human life and history.

The present bell of the First Dutch Church was ordered from Holland in 1724 to "tell when a member was dying, a stroke for each year of his life." When the bell arrived, it was hung and tested, and found to have a dull tone. Disappointed parishioners declared it was "good for nothing" until the discovery was made that the bell was hung on the wrong axis.

Correctly hung, the bell was proclaimed to be "the best bell ever hung in America."

Mrs. Van Tassel spoke of the importance of bells in our lives—church bells and school bells, fire bells, the small bell on the teacher's desk, the dinner bell on the farm, the front door bell.

She said the largest bell in the world was in Moscow and weighed 220 tons. After a fire in 1737, the bell itself was used as a chapel, she said.

Most famous bell in America is, of course, the Liberty Bell, she declared. Miss Frances Osterhout addressed the group on the subject of flowers—especially the travels of the seeds all over the world, borne by winds, birds, water, driftwood, ships and ice floes.

She said delphinium had been found in an Egyptian tomb of 3,000 B. C., still showing traces of blue.

The Regal Lily was discovered near Tibet, carpeting the slopes of the mountains, she said, but many lives were lost and many years passed before it was successfully grown in America.

During the business meeting, the program committee for the coming year was announced. Mrs. Herbert Rhodes will be chairman, and members will include: Mrs. Raymond Woodard, Miss Mary Ingalls, Mrs. Hermann Schwenk and Mrs. Warren Russell.

Next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Ingalls on March 27.

Catskill Glee Club Sings in Selkirk

Approximately 400 persons heard the concert of the Catskill Glee Club held Monday evening at the Bethlehem Reformed Church in Selkirk, under the sponsorship of the Men's Club of the church.

Some 60 male singers—some of them from Kingston—who are members of the traveling choral group participated in the program. It was the tenth year that a program had been presented by the Glee Club in the Bethlehem Church, and after the concert arrangements were made to continue next year, with a program on March 19.

The concert featured three solos by tenor Howard Hawthorne, selections by baritone Cyrus W. Tompkins and a group by the club's quartet.

After the concert, a reception was held in the church parlors.

Dinner Dance Set By Temple Emanuel

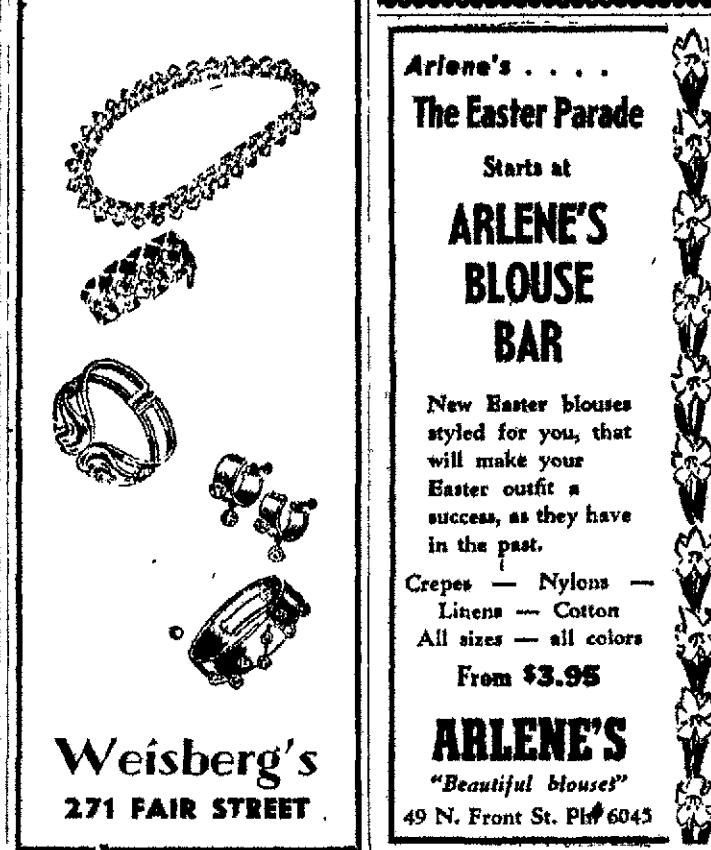

Temple Emanuel will hold a dinner-dance Saturday, April 22, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, it was announced today after a meeting of the dinner-dance committee at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ewig, 270 Fair street.

The committee is headed by Mrs. Edward Nethurn, chairman, assisted by the Meses. Richard Kalish, Sidney Wolf, Harold Taylor, Charles Warshaw, Arthur Ewig, and Herbert Bloom. Publicity chairman is Mrs. Harry Gold.

Reporter About Town

By Jean Mele

Scratch every third woman walking briskly down the city streets this week-end, and the chances are you'll find a victim of the Bowling Fever.

It's everywhere. The gal who sets your hair, or sells you a dress, or takes your dictation or cooks your supper . . . look out, she may have it, too. And every week-end Kingston is being invaded by 800 carriers of the Bowling Bug.

How can you recognize them? They come in all shapes and sizes, but they all look happy, and determined, and most of them carry a small satchel—just right for shoes and bowling ball. And they have a special vocabulary, too.

Kingston has been hit by the bowling fever for years, and now the state-wide women's bowling tournament—in which more than 8,000 women from all corners of the Empire State will participate—is being held here.

In honor of this happy occasion I went over to 132 Tremper avenue to talk to the gal who is acclaimed as Kingston's greatest woman bowler, and one of the greatest women bowlers in the state and in the nation—dark-haired, good-looking 32-year-old Rose Schatzel.

Feeding Baby

Rose was feeding her eight-months-old son, John Anthony, and trying not to wake her husband, who works nights as a railroad brakeman. I asked her when she was smitten with the bowling bug. "I bowled my first game when I was . . . 22, I guess," she said. "You see, my husband used to set up pins to make some extra money, and I used to sit there and watch. I'd see those girls bowling and I'd say, 'My God, I could do better than that.' My husband said, 'Well, why don't you try?'"

She laughed and finished the well-known Schatzel smile. "I said, 'My God, everybody will be looking at me.' Well, nobody looked at me, and I bowled my first three balls right into the gutter. I made 54."

It took plenty of practice, Rose said, to go from 54 up to 268—the highest score she has ever hit (and she has hit it five times). Since 300 is a perfect score in bowling, you can figure out how good 268 is. Few bowlers get that high—men included.

Average Is Lower

Her average now is 178—lower by five points than last year, because "I'm not getting any practice at all—I have to stay with the baby, and my mother is very sick."

She beamed at the baby, who sat gleefully rocking in his high-chair, and gave him another spoonful of chicken soup. "There's nothing like 'em," she said fondly. "We waited seven years for him. I think he's going to be a dancer. He loves music."

Rose says she thinks practice and personality are the most important factors in a good woman bowler.

"You know," she said, nodding at the baby, "I made my best scores when I was carrying him. I bowled up to five months. I was averaging 190. Well—for one thing, I was happy."

Clear Mind

To be a good bowler, "you have to put it in your mind that you want to do well. And you have to have a clear mind," she said. "The way I've been going to the alleys—all worked up, thinking about what's going on at home, the baby acting up, and my mother . . ."

You have to learn how to play alleys—to learn the different technique required by different alleys, and above all, says Rose, you have to practice.

"Another thing that's important is whether a girl can take it under pressure. Like in everyday life, some can take the hard knocks and some can't." She gave the baby his bottle. "You fat stuff," she said to him. "You little fat stuff."

I asked Rose why men consistently bowled better than women, even though some women can make better scores than some men. "Well, it's strength," she said, "and they do practice more. When a woman bowls six or seven games, she's exhausted, but a man can bowl 15 or 20 and it doesn't bother him."

Rose said she had noticed that most men were not exactly eager to take her on for a game. "You see, like one of them said to me, 'No, I won't bowl you—if I won, it wouldn't be any feather in my cap to have beaten a woman, and if I lost, I'd never live it down.'"

"I think men don't do well when they bowl a woman," she said, thoughtfully. "I've bowled lots of men, and they never seem to do anything."

Calls India 'Bharat'
Karachi, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan newspapers have announced that henceforth they will call India by its new name, "Bharat." The new Indian constitution adopted "Bharat" as an alternate name to India. But "India" continues to be used in English while Indian language newspapers and books use "Bharat" or "Hindustan." Pakistan previously has objected to India's continued use of the old name after partition. M. A. Jinnah, founder of Pakistan, preferred always to say "Hindustan," even in English. Pakistan Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan recently has referred to India as "Bharat" in his public statements.

$1,714.07 for Children's Home

State of New York National Bank
March 20th, 1950
Pay to the order of The Children's Home $1,714.07
No. 66
The entire proceeds, $1,714.07, from the Shriners' Ball held here January 23 have been turned over to the Children's Home on East Chester street. Reproduced above is the check in the full amount, which was presented by Harry S. Hutton, treasurer of the Ulster County Shrine Club, sponsors of the annual ball, to Mrs. Joseph H. Craig, treasurer of the Board of Directors of the Children's Home. Speaking in behalf of the Ulster County Shrine Club, Mr. Hutton expressed profound appreciation for the generous support of the ball, which made possible the large amount which will be used in the maintenance of the local institution. Benedictine's Annual Easter Monday Ball Cuts Expenses as Building Bill Mounts

Benedictine Hospital's annual Easter Monday Ball, a 40-year-old Kingston tradition and a high point of the social season, will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel this year with expenses cut to the bone to help meet the hospital's urgent need for more funds for its new wing.

BILL LIVINGSTON

The wing will cost $543,700 more than original estimates showed. In previous years the formal ball has been held at the Municipal Auditorium, with expensive "name" bands and entertainment imported for the occasion. This year, the committee has engaged Kingston talent—James Sweeney and his orchestra, with singer Bill Livingston, who will provide the music for dancing in the Crystal Room and the junior dining room.

A trio of musicians will stroll among the persons who are not dancing, to play requests and favorite selections. They will be Ben Walker and his Bon-Bons, currently entertaining at the Embassy—Ben Walker, violin, George Walsh, bass, Joseph Stroki, guitar.

All other entertainment, the committee said, will come from the pleasure of good company and the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping increase the capacity of the overcrowded hospital from 120 to 200 beds, and adding rooms for operating, maternity, pediatrics, laboratory, X-ray, pharmacy, supply, kitchen, dining, and laundry.

First estimate of the expansion was $1,272,000, but the figure has now had to be increased to $1,815,700. "As this difficult problem confronts us, it is only natural that we should look towards our many loyal and faithful friends for assistance," said Sister Bernice, administrator of the hospital. "Their generosity and cooperation in the past has always encouraged us, and we are convinced that they will not let us down now when we are trying to erect a modern hospital that will be a credit to Ulster county."

The hospital building fund is the result of "many and varied" benefactions from generous friends through the years. Sister Bernice said, adding that the State Planning Commission has also promised the hospital $416,333.

Co-chairmen of the Easter Monday Ball committee are Mrs. Vincent Amatrano and Mrs. George Elnterz. Mrs. Guy Valeo is in charge of decorations, Miss Ann Campbell in charge of tickets, and Mrs. Arthur Nash and Mrs. J. Haviland Bayley are in charge of publicity. The reception committee will be announced later.

Finely chopped parsley may be added to a bowl of salad greens for fresh flavor. A little prepared mustard added to an oil-and-vinegar dressing for the salad will pop it up.

Would Break Deadlock
Athens, March 23 (AP)—Sophocles Venizelos, Greece's Liberal Party chief, said today he would break the country's political deadlock by becoming premier at the head of an all-Liberal cabinet. The Liberals hold only 55 seats in the 250-member Parliament. But in a surprise development, Populist (Royalist) Leader Constantin Tsaldaris and other rightist politicians threw their support to Venizelos to block formation of a moderate coalition government.

West Is Castigated
Berlin, March 23 (AP)—A spokesman for the Communist-led east zone German government castigated the west German government today in its declaration favoring free all-German elections. Albert Norden, deputy information chief, said a national election on western terms would mean "enslavement of the German people." He told a news conference that yesterday's west German proposal for a unification vote, "Thank God, will not be accepted in one-third of Germany."

Potters Clip McAuleys in Final Seconds on Engel's Deuce by 45 to 43

Newburgh Defeats Rochdale, 72 to 71 In Overtime Finish

Pelligrino, Hilly City Center, Tallies 31

Potter Brothers pulled a proverbial Frank Merriwell finish Wednesday night to register a thrilling 45 to 43 victory over the stubborn McAuley's Rees of Poughkeepsie in the Y basketball tournament.

With only seconds left on the clock, Harvey Engel, Potter guard playing "sleeper" under the basket, grappled a pass from Cliff Schoonmaker, dribbled in and laid up a deuce just as the final horn sounded giving the local basket team the 45-43 squeaker triumph.

In the other half of the twin-bill, the Newburgh Furniture Mart outlasted Rochdale by 72 to 71 in an overtime finish. Newburgh pulled the game out of fire in the five-second overtime.

Engel's two-pointer for Potters, his only score of the night, featured a fast game which saw the local quintet in the lead for the major portion of the battle.

Potters jumped off to a 10-7 lead at the first period and a 24-19 edge at halftime. McAuley's, with Murkoff hitting with consistent ease, finally overtook Potters in the third period with a 13-point spurge, leading by 32-30.

Potters outscored the visitors by 15-11 in the final period with Engel's two-pointer the big one.

Murkoff, center for McAuley's was top scorer of the game with 19. Greene, Potter guard, dumped in seven fields and a foul for 15 to lead the winners.

Pelligrino Hits 31

Despite a tremendous effort by Pelligrino who rolled up a total of 31 points, Rochdale dropped its close battle to Newburgh Furniture Mart by 72 to 71.

Pelligrino almost completed a one-man demolition job on the Hilly City quintet but his bid failed by an eyelash.

Newburgh, with a 17-point bulge in the middle of the second period, began to hit the skids when Pelligrino went to work and brought Rochdale up to a 39-24 deficit at halftime. Newburgh led at the first period by 21-8.

Pelligrino continued his stand-out scoring performance in the third period bringing his club up to within one point of Newburgh by 45-44 at the end of the session.

Rochdale, outscored Newburgh 17 to 16 in the final period with the game ending at a 65-65 deadlock. Newburgh finally came through in the overtime finish to win the bruising battle by 72 to 71.

Following Pelligrino in the scoring ledger for the losers were Johnson and Mulally who hit for 14 and 11 points, respectively. Gabron was high for Newburgh with 19. Walsh hit for 16, Latowski 15 and Kellman 14.

No Games Tonight

The tournament will resume action Friday night with another doubleheader starting at 7:30 o'clock featuring the Millbrook Colored Giants and the Wilkety Motors of Kingston. The finale will bring together the Woodridge Athlons, last year's tournament champs, and the Hamden American.

As a result of last night's games, Potters will meet the Weiners of Newburgh Wednesday, March 29, in their next tournament action. The Newburgh Furniture Mart will engage Marlborough Tuesday, March 28.

Five Golden Glove Champs Box Tonight

Five newly-crowned Adirondack A.A.U. Golden Glove champions will highlight tonight's final B'fth boxing show at the municipal auditorium with the first three-rounder scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Entering the ring tonight following their recent victories in the Albany tournament will be Libby Manzollilo, the Jeffersonville flash; Vince Salvati, Harry Smith, Tito Arzuago and Joey McEvoy, the middleweight champ.

Ben M. Becker, director of bouts for the card, has arranged an impressive bill featuring the newly-crowned champs and seven Golden Glove finalists who are conceded excellent chances of upsetting the champs tonight.

Keen interest is centered around the top bout bringing together Manzollilo and Billy Hunter, Boston, the 126-pound New England champ. Hunter is replacing Ray Field of Utica over whom he holds a decision. Field will not appear tonight due to illness, Becker said this morning.

Cast in the semi-final tonight will be Vince Salvati and Julie Jamieson, the Poughkeepsie mauler who dropped an unpopular decision to Salvati in Albany.

The card:

5-Round Final
Libby Manzollilo, Jeffersonville, vs. Billy Hunter, Boston.

Semi-Final
Vince Salvati, Troy, vs. Julie Jamieson, Poughkeepsie.

Other Bouts
Harry Smith, Berkshire, vs. Sam Shulliff, German refugee who packs plenty of power.
Tito Arzuago, Berkshire, vs. Don Aniano, Boston.
Joe McEvoy vs. Freddie Marola, runnerup for middleweight honors in the recent Boston Golden Glove tournament.
Eugene Benin, East Kingston, will be paired against a suitable opponent.
Area boxers will appear in the preliminary bouts.

Robinson Scores Quick K.O. Win

Philadelphia, March 23 (AP)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson's world's welterweight crown rested more securely than ever on the veteran boxer's head today after his short-order knockout of George (also Sugar) Costner.

Costner, who transferred his activities from Cincinnati to Camden, N. J., a year ago, had been pointing toward a title bout with Robinson until last night's over-the-weight bout at Convention Hall.

Robinson, who weighed 154 pounds—four more than Costner—caught the Camden contender with a hard right after 30 seconds of action.

The champion then switched to the body for a few blows, landed another right on Costner's jaw and finished him off with a left hook to the chin at 2:49 of the initial round of their scheduled 10-round go.

It marked Robinson's second first-round kayo of Costner. A previous meeting in Chicago also ended in the first round.

For the champion it was his 107th win in 110 professional fights, 74 of them by knockouts. Two of his other bouts ended in draws while his lone defeat was at the hands of Jake LaMotta, present middleweight titleholder.

Besides the satisfaction of eliminating a contender to his crown at least temporarily, Robinson received $15,000 of the $53,762 ($39,089 net) paid by the crowd of 11,747.

Robinson gave the crowd a demonstration of his pleasure over the result. As Costner toppled to the canvas, Robinson did a little dance of victory and shouted with joy as he went to a neutral corner.

Glenn Davis Signs With Los Angeles

Los Angeles, March 23 (AP)—All-America, all-round athlete Glenn Davis is a "pro" today. He had a choice, and he picked the gridiron's thumps and bumps over the somewhat less hazardous occupations of the diamond.

Rejecting a number of attractive offers from major league baseball clubs, Davis yesterday signed a two-year contract with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Pro League.

Apparently salary wasn't the deciding factor.

Rams proxy Dan Reeves said "Davis will receive a salary in line with other backs on our club. In fact, Glenn requested a salary lower than the Rams were prepared to pay in exchange for bonus arrangements based on his performance."

Asked if he liked football better than baseball, Davis thought and then replied: "Yes, I think I do. Also, I think maybe I have a better chance to make good in football than in baseball. I did a lot of thinking about it, however."

Davis, 25, is the "Mr. Outside" of army fame. Teamed with Felix (Doc) Blanchard as "Mr. Inside" of the scoring combination, he led army to three consecutive undefeated seasons. He made the Associated Press All-America team each of those years, and scored 59 touchdowns from 1943 through 1948. He also won letters in baseball, track and basketball. In his best baseball year he hit .480 and stole 22 bases.

Talbert Downs Trabert

New York—Billy Talbert defeated Tony Trabert, 6-1, 6-4, 7-5, and Don McNeill beat Sidney Schwartz, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, to enter the semi-finals of the National Indoor championship.

Beavers Choice In Cage Tourney Over Ohio State

New York, March 23 (AP)—City College of New York's fantastic fuzz kids will open their bid for college basketball's big "double" tonight, haunted by the specter of going "state" from overwork.

Nat Holman's energetic Beavers, who came from nowhere to win the national invitation title last week, will meet Ohio State's Western Conference champions in the first game of the Eastern N.C.A.A. playoffs at Madison Square Garden.

The second game of a sellout program will send Holy Cross Crusaders against North Carolina State, champion of the Southern Conference. The tossup is at 8:15 p. m. (E.S.T.).

C.C.N.Y. has been installed a 3 1/2 point favorite, although some are beginning to wonder how long the Beavers can stand the pace. Holy Cross is picked by 1 1/2 points.

City's big, pepped-up sophomores swept through the N.I.T. without hardly stopping for second wind, blowing out defending champion San Francisco, Kentucky, Duquesne and Bradley in order.

Holman, said he isn't worried about his athletes getting "cheesy" over their success. He is concerned that they may be getting tired.

They've had a lot of basketball for a bunch of unseasoned boys. Only one member of the starting lineup is a senior.

Patty McNeill Set For Tennis Finals

New York, March 23 (AP)—Budge Patty of Los Angeles and the veteran Don McNeill of Baltimore, N. Y., will clash tonight for a final berth in the National Indoor Tennis Tournament.

The other semi-finalists, top-ranked Billy Talbert of New York and fifth-seeded Fred Kovaleski, will meet Friday night at the Seventh Regiment Armory.

Talbert and McNeill gained the round of four last night, catching up with their opponents who already had attained the next-to-last bracket.

Talbert turned back Cincinnati's Tony Trabert easily, 6-1, 6-4, 7-5. McNeill, the 1940 national champion, ousted Sidney Schwartz, University of Miami Junior, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

Chicago—Bob Satterfield, 178, Chicago, outpointed Tommy Gomez, 182, Tampa, Fla., 10.

Colonials Launch 130-Game Slate May 2 Against Chiefs

Home Opener Set Following Night

The Colonials launch the 1950 Colonial Baseball League at home on Wednesday, May 3, against the Poughkeepsie Chiefs, according to the official schedule.

A night earlier they help the Chiefs launch the season in the Bridge City.

The 130-game schedule concludes on Labor Day and will be followed by the post-season Shaugnessy playoffs.

No provision is made in the schedule for the all-star game, a feature that was staged in 1948 and abandoned last year.

Kingston is allotted nine Sunday home dates and will engage the Poughkeepsie club in afternoon-night, home and home doubleheaders on Memorial Day, 4th of July and Labor Day.

Poughkeepsie appears on the Kingston Sunday schedule three times during the season, with the Colonials travelling to the Bridge City twice for Sabbath games.

The local Sunday schedule follows:

Poughkeepsie—May 21, July 16, Sept. 3.
Stamford—July 2, July 23
Bridgeport—June 11, August 13
Waterbury—May 14
Bristol—June 18
The home schedule for Kingston:
Poughkeepsie—May 3, 21*, 20; June 22, 30; July 4, 10 16*; Sept. 3*, 4.
Stamford—May 5, 6, 23, 24; June 12, 13; July 1, 2*, 23*; August 15, 16.
Bridgeport—May 19, 20; June 9, 10, 11*, 27, 28; July 21, 22; August 13*, 14, 21; September 1.
Waterbury—May 13, 14*, June 2, 3, 20, 21; July 13, 14; August 2, 3, 23, 24, 25.
Bristol—May 11, 12, 31; June 1, 18*, 19; July 11, 12, 31; August 1, 21, 22.

Speedy Giants Are Compared to Clubs Of McGraw's Era

Fresno, Calif., March 23 — Molded according to specifications laid down by Leo Durocher, the New York Giant ensemble that is touring California this week in the company of the Pittsburgh Pirates is definitely and distinctly a "new model" ball team. The break with the "home-run-or-nothing" era of the recent past is sharp and complete. New players, new tactics, new ideas have taken hold and the New York fans will see a very different kind of baseball this summer.

To "type" this team it is necessary to go far back into Giant history. Not since the John McGraw squads of the early 1920's has there been a team at the Polo Grounds constructed along similar lines. The comparison is to type only, for the comparative skills have yet to be determined but it can be pointed out that Durocher has selected a splendid model. The Giants of the early 1920's were four time champions.

The imagination does not have to be stretched to point up the similarity. The McGrawian teams of that era stressed speed as this one hopes to, had a balanced and resourceful batting order, pitching that was sound without featuring top names, two or three outstanding players, and aggressive, imaginative leadership.

The 1950 Giants can be fitted into that form. They will show to the Pirates and later to the rest of the National League, perhaps what is the game's fastest team. Bob Thompson, Henry Thompson, Al Dark, Whitby Lockman—all are fliers. The batting order has balance if not extraordinary power. The first six hitters will provide a test for any pitching staff. Stanky, Lockman, Thompson, Thompson, Don Mueller and Dark jockey nicely into a batting order; one way or another all of them can promise to get on base often.

The pitching staff also appears to be neatly balanced. If these games with the Pirates produce a fifth starter to work with Jensen, Jones, Kennedy and Kossio, Durocher's pitching worries will be reduced to a minimum. Jack Kramer shapes up as the likeliest prospect for this fifth starting role, but Sal Maglie, the returning Mexican Leaguer, has also impressed with his early performance.

Naturally, the high hopes for the team are based in part, too, on the assumption that the two rookies who have become regulars by decree, meaning Jack Harshman at first base and Don Mueller in right field, will make the grade. That is a puzzle and maybe a problem. Both are vitally needed because most of the club's proven hitting power is right handed. The two youngsters are needed to provide the extra lift, to produce those extra runs that carry a rally on through.

The youngsters' records say they can do it. Harshman hit 40 home runs at Minneapolis last summer, and Mueller has been a high average hitter every place he has played, Jacksonville, Jersey City and Minneapolis. These games with Pittsburgh this week will be a test for them, and their play will be studied closely.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Vero Beach, Fla., March 23 (AP)

Big Don Newcombe, who has had a bad arm, and Jackie Robinson, sidelined by an ailing knee, were expected to see action with the Brooklyn Dodgers today in a game with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Robinson said he'd play second base "if the ground isn't too bad." There has been plenty of rain here lately. Newcombe, the team's mound ace, hoped to show some of his splendid 1949 form.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Vic Raschi, one of the New York Yankees' star hurlers, still has his troubles with the Washington Senators.

Raschi, a late signer with the Yankees this spring, had only a 2-2 record against the Senators last season. Yesterday he got into his first game of the exhibition campaign and promptly gave Washington six walks, four hits and hit a batter in his four-inning stint.

Sacramento, Calif., March 23 (AP)—The New York Giants, who had many pitching problems last year, appeared today to have at least three moundmen already in top form.

They are Dave Kossio, Sal Maglie and Sheldon Jones. Maglie has been steady all spring and yesterday against Pittsburgh pitched the last five innings without yielding a hit. Kossio gave up only three as the starting pitcher. Jones, in 13 innings this spring, has permitted eight hits and not allowed an earned run.

Brundenton, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Officials of the Boston Braves will fly to Vero Beach tomorrow in President Lou Perini's private plane to visit the Brooklyn Dodgers' assembly line styled training camp. All denied the trip was for any purpose except to inspect the training setup. However, Dodger Malinda Branch Rickey has made many sales, some to the Tribe which has been defeated in nine consecutive exhibition games.

Tampa, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' try to get catcher Walker Cooper of the Cincinnati Reds has failed—at least, that's what the Grapefruit League grapevine reports.

The hope during the winter was that the Reds wanted to unload the veteran catcher and that the Cards were interested. Yesterday, Cardinals owner Fred Saigh huddled with President Warren Giles of Cincinnati. The information was that Saigh offered Giles two youngsters and cash for Cooper but was turned down.

Sarasota, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Boston Red Sox third baseman Johnny Pesky has discarded a special corset he has been wearing to protect a pulled side muscle and hopes to resume spring conditioning within a few days. The Sox will play the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater today with Mel Parnell and Joe Dobson in line to pitch for the Sox who edged their hometown National League rivals, the Braves, 5-4, yesterday.

San Diego, March 23 (AP)—Something about the weather of the Golden West apparently isn't agreeing with the Cleveland Indians. Five Tribesmen have colds.

Pitcher Bob Feller, outfielder Allie Clark and Coach Muddy Ruel were feeling so bad that they remained in Burbank last night when the team came here.

Feller and Clark were confined to their hotel rooms, but Ruel was on hand as the club trounced the St. Louis Browns 14-6 yesterday.

The other ailing Clevelanders are Manager Lou Boudreau and big Luke Easter.

Angels Score Win Over Delaware Five

Harry's Angels scored a 62 to 56 victory over the Delaware County Stars Tuesday night at Roxbury with Humphries and Ward Dunham leading the attack with 18 and 11 points respectively.

Delamater and Gunther each dropped in 13 apiece for the losers. Preston followed with 12.

Trailled by one point, 12 to 11 at the first period, the basketballers wound up the first half with a two point edge of 26-24. The teams went into the final period with the score deadlocked at 37-37.

The score:
Harry's Angels (62)

Belgian Statesman To Try for Solution

Brussels, Belgium, March 23 (AP)—Count Henri Carton De Wiart, Belgium's oldest statesman, has been called on to convene with the nation's most venerable political heads to try to solve the bitter question of King Leopold's return to the throne.

The 81-year-old count was given the consultative job by acting Premier Gaston Eyskens, whose coalition of Social Christians and Liberals government fell last week because it failed to unravel the sticky problem.

Count Carton De Wiart immediately called for a solemn council of state to convene today—the first in Belgium since 1914 when the Germans invaded the country. The aged royalist was at the head of that council also.

Although the council, made up of 28 leaders of parties on both the pro-Leopold and anti-Leopold sides of the fence, has great prestige in the country it has no power to take action. It is only hoped that the grey heads of Belgian politics may be able to iron out a situation which threatens to split the nation.

Dogs are second cousins to cats, and first cousins to foxes, bears, and raccoons.

WHAT A PUNCH—Stan Musial demonstrates power of hands and wrists to Cardinals' coach Tony Kaufmann in St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp. The three-time National League batting champion is again happy to contribute his remarkable batting punch to the St. Louis attack.

Bowling

Cracking out three 170 games of 177-172-179, E. Heinz topped the pinfall in the Rip Van Winkle wheel at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with a 528 triple.

The only other 500 counts were J. Cashin's 210-516; and P. Tiano's 504.

Also of note were E. Koskie with 495; G. Williams 210-495; A. Mazzuca 491; G. Mackey 489; Bob Gorsline 488; and J. Bartsch, Sr., 485.

Betty Flynn's conversion of the tough 7-9-10 split was top news in the Women's Booster circuit at the "Palace" last night when Louise Jordan and Dolores Jankowski came out on top with 438 scores.

L. Jordan shot 146-159-133 for her 438 count while D. Jankowski shot 101-186-171.

Other top scores were Lois Charlton with 436 and Eunice Scully 423.

Sandwiching in a 217 blast between games of 180 and 169, Wall Danford paced the Hercules League pin-busting at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with a 566 triple.

Five pins off the pace was Joe Mannello's 549 built around scores of 202-186-173. Charlie Horne posted 549; F. Fiore 200-210-544; Les Hotelling 541; C. Herdman 529; J. Maurer 519; Vince Noble 519; J. McGrath 503-515; and W. Fatum 507.

St. Peter's No. 1 assured itself of at least a tie for final honors in the Catholic Youth Organization League at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night by capturing three straight from St. Peter's No. 2. St. Peter's No. 2 squad is in second place with only one more week of the regulation season left.

Ed Schupp, meanwhile, walked off with top honors for the circuit last night with a 531 series on games of 182-156-193.

Nick Reis was the runnerup with 526; D. Herzog shot 520; Sam Turk 519; Joe Fautz 516; Jack Watzka 177-177-514; and S. Ausaño 501. Jack "Daisy" Schatzel shot a 412 double on 205-207.

RHODE ISLAND MONASTERY IN FLAMES

One hundred and forty monks of the Cistercian Monastery of Our Lady of the Valley, at Cumberland, R. I., were left homeless when fire destroyed the edifice. Damage was estimated at $2,000,000.

The island of Haiti is occupied by the Republic of Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Young wild pigs are camouflaged with stripes, which disappear as the animals grow older.
